Germans Advance On Verdun Front

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
PARIS, France, June 13.—The Germans on the west front this morning made a concerted assault upon the entire Verdun front west of Thiaumont farms. In some places the Germans entered some advanced trenches while in other places the attackers were repulsed with losses.

The Russians are reforming their shattered ranks and are pounding with renewed vigor at Tavnans and Souville.

Russians Checked By Teuton Counter

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
BERLIN, Germany, June 13.—Delivering a furious blow at the hands of Russians who have been driving forward into Bukovina from east of Czernowitz and near Bucacz, the Teuton troops have sent the Slavs staggering back with the force of their counter-attack in the northwestern part of Bukovina. The Austrians have captured 1300 of the Russians. Both Germans and Austrians are engaged in the counter-attack.

GREAT PAGEANT WILL BE SHOWN THIS EVENING

Arrangements Are Made to Handle Crowds and Prevent Again Postponing

"All invited guests who had ribbon badges given to them as passes for the Kamehameha Day pageant are asked to wear them when they come tonight, so that they may be known as guests to the ushers." Mayor Lane asked that this be published by the Star-Bulletin in the course of a telephone conversation this afternoon. Continuing, he said that it was most regrettable that the pageant had to be postponed last night and blamed the late arrival of the "bleachers" for the subsequent "mixup" which occurred.

There would be no similar occurrence this evening and that there would be ample accommodations for all. The mayor had spent most of the day in the Capitol grounds devoting his attention to the arrangements that were in progress for handling the crowd tonight.

Postponement of last night's pageant "from darkness to light" until tonight came as the result of too much snow in the drawing crowds. So many people flocked onto the grounds and into the bleachers that the police could not control them. Those who had paid for admission could not get their seats. Those who had not purchased tickets filled the stands.

A few futile requests to move were made to the crowds occupying the seats and then it was announced that the show would not be given until tonight.

Bleachers belonging to the Kamehameha Day Celebration Committee were loaned to the racing association for the day and immediately after the meet at Kapiolani park was over were torn down and carried to the Palace grounds, where they were to be used for the pageant. But work was delayed by the crowd at the park and the stands were not up when people began to arrive at the Palace.

As fast as the bleachers were erected they were occupied. Neither the police nor the Boy Scouts, who did valiant work, could dislodge the impatient crowd. The participants in the pageant were in costume, the steam whistles whistled angrily, the band was ready, but no pageant could be held.

Tickets for last night will be honored tonight. Those who threw their tickets away have only to say so and new ones will be issued. The stands are all in place today and the police are prepared to maintain order. "Last night's failure has only strengthened the determination of the committee to make the affair pass off successfully tonight," declared Mayor Lane today. He is chairman of the executive committee.

WIFE SHOT FOUR TIMES; HUSBAND ADMITS JEALOUSY

David Kailiwai Gives Himself
Up to Police; Woman Taken to Queen's Hospital and May Recover

With a bullet hole through her right ear, another in her breast, two in her head and one in her arm, Mrs. David Kailiwai is at the Queen's Hospital. Her husband gave himself up at the police station this morning, admitted shooting her and gave jealousy as the cause, say the police.

Mrs. Kailiwai was first taken to the emergency hospital in the ambulance and then rushed to the Queen's Hospital on account of her serious condition. She has not lived with her husband for the last seven months until quite recently.

According to a story which the police say Kailiwai told when he gave himself up, he was walking home on the road above the insane asylum when he met his former wife with Mrs. Keola Kalawala. He went to the latter's home and when his wife refused to go to his home he pulled the pistol and shot at her four times, each bullet taking effect. He then ran for the police.

The Queen's Hospital authorities reported late this afternoon that the woman may recover, seeming not to be in immediate danger.

Kailiwai says his wife recently said she would live with him again, after another man had broken up their home. He stated that when she would not come with him this morning, with jealousy and anger in his mind, he pulled the gun which was carrying for use on the home-breaker and shot her.

PLANE DROPS IN CROWD AND TWO SPECTATORS DIE

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, June 13.—Y. Nakazawa, a Japanese aviator, was responsible for the death of two persons yesterday when his aeroplane fell in a crowd at Miyakonojo during a trial flight.

Nakazawa has recently returned to Japan from the United States, where he has been a student at the Sierra aviation school at Long Beach, Cal. In a trial flight he made an effort to make a difficult turn, and lost control of his machine in midair and was dashed to the ground, the aeroplane alighting in a crowd, and two were killed, four seriously injured and many others received minor injuries. Nakazawa was slightly injured and his machine completely wrecked.

McRae comes to Oahu directly from the adjutant's department at Washington, where he has been on duty for several.

Great Success of Celebration Is Gratifying

I think the Kamehameha Day celebration committee, the polo and the racing clubs, and the people of Honolulu generally should feel extreme gratification from the wholesome and enthusiastic manner in which efforts to revive the old-time Kamehameha Day celebration were appreciated by residents of the island and the other islands.
*****
The residents of the other islands have come to us in large numbers. They have been our guests for the past three days and if their apparent enjoyment can speak their feelings I am sure none regret the trip. The occasion was certainly a happy one to us of Oahu, and we hope that this 1916 occasion may be a stepping stone to a continuation of a grand Kamehameha Day celebration on June 11, with clean horse races, polo, pageants, etc. We are glad you came and we are sorry to see you go.

War Secretary Wilson's Spokesman At St. Louis

Newton D. Baker Denies He is in Any Way Candidate for Vice President; Dr. Raymond
Loses Out

By Joseph R. Farrington.
(Star-Bulletin Correspondent at St. Louis Convention)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 13.—The subcommittee of the Democratic national committee has sustained the action of the Democratic territorial central committee of Hawaii in seating Morris Keokahohale of Maui as a delegate to St. Louis instead of Dr. J. H. Raymond.

Whether this fight and the fight of High Sheriff Jarrett for the national committee membership will be carried further in the convention has not been announced.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, on whose behalf there is a pronounced movement to nominate him for the vice-presidency, will be the president's personal representative at St. Louis. He left for the convention last night.

The president's strong political supporters and managers of his campaign are gathering in St. Louis. Senators Stone of Missouri, James of Kentucky and Hughes of New Jersey are there working in the president's interest.

The draft of the Democratic platform is practically complete. The president has gone over it carefully. Mr. Baker himself in a statement issued late last night laughed at the idea that he is a candidate for the second place on the Democratic ticket. "It is a bit of friendly enthusiasm on the part of some of my friends," said the secretary, "nothing more, I assure you."

"Personally I am for Vice-President Marshall to succeed himself, and I am confident that he will be named by the convention."

Coke, In Salary Issue, Wireleses He's Not Doing Politics at St. Louis

James L. Coke, attorney for the public utilities commission, has no intention of "doing politics" at St. Louis. He says so in a Memorandum received by the commission from San Francisco.

A day or two after Coke sailed for the coast rather suddenly recently, rumors reached the commission that Coke was going to St. Louis as attorney for Dr. J. H. Raymond, who was contesting for the Maui place on the Hawaii delegation to the big convention. In fact, Chairman Pacheco of the Democratic central committee said that he had a letter from Coke informing the committee that he represented Raymond as his attorney in the contest.

Chairman Forbes of the commission thereupon had a hasty round-up of the other members and as a result dispatched a telegram to Coke saying that if he, Coke, should go to St. Louis to do politics for any interest his salary as attorney for the utilities commission would be stopped. Coke was absent on two months' leave at full salary, and supposedly was to work for the commission in Washington.

A few days ago, it was learned this morning, Coke sent to the commission the following Memorandum:

"I have no intention of appearing as attorney or otherwise for any political interest at St. Louis."
It was said at the commission's office this morning that his salary has not been held up.

ONE OF ESTATE OWNERS FOUND ALIVE, REPORT

Eugene Murphy, the Wailuku, Maui, attorney, has sprung a surprise on federal officials by announcing that one of the respondents in the government's suit to condemn the Irwin site, who is set forth in the petition as being deceased, is very much alive and is now residing on the Valley Island.

The respondent in question, Murphy states, is one Wahineaea, who is mentioned in the petition together with the "unknown heirs." Whether this discovery will cause a delay in the proceedings has not yet been determined by the district attorney's office. It is understood, although not confirmed, that Wahineaea is the respondent of whom "Princess Theresa" Belliveau claims to be an heir. The "princess" recently told the Star-Bulletin that she owned about an acre of land in the Irwin site, and that she would claim at least $100,000 for it.

Marshall J. J. Smiddy has received information from J. B. Holohan, marshal for the northern district of California, to the effect that the latter has served copies of the petition for condemnation on several of the respondents residing in California, including, Adolph B. Spreckels, Rudolph Spreckels in person and as a trustee of the estate of Claus Spreckels, and the W. G. Irwin Estate. J. D. Spreckels was served with a copy at Los Angeles.

In his report Marshal Holohan states that Emma (Spreckels) Ferris and John Ferris, her wife, two other respondents, are now in England, and that service on them will have to be made there. He also reports that Claus A. Spreckels, another respondent, is in New York City.

FLAG DAY WILL BE OBSERVED AT AD CLUB'S LUNCH

Following out the lines of taking an active interest in everything American the Ad Club will be presented with a new silk flag, which will be unfurled at the luncheon tomorrow with appropriate ceremony. Committee reports will also be heard in addition to the regular business.

HYPHEN ISSUE BRINGS HUGHES OUT IN REPLY

Declares Anyone Supporting Him is Supporting "Out-and-out" American

WILSON ALSO TALKS ON
VITAL NATIONAL SUBJECTS

In Address at West Point He Touches Upon Republican
Candidate's Points

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
NEW YORK, June 13.—Answering reporters who questioned his attitude today regarding his attitude toward support offered him as a presidential candidate by German-Americans, Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate, declared that his attitude is "one of undiluted Americanism."

"Anyone who is supporting me is supporting an out-and-out American, and an out-and-out American policy, and nothing else," he declared.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 13.—President Wilson delivered a notable and significant address today to the graduates of the United States Military Academy here, in the course of which he touched upon many of the national issues which will figure in the presidential campaign.

A large crowd, among whom were many prominent men, including Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals, the canal builder, heard the address.

The president discussed "militarism," Americanism, the causes of the European war, peace, the Monroe doctrine, divided allegiance in the United States and the ideals of Americanism.

"The present imperative duty of the United States is to be prepared," he said. "Mankind is going to know that when America speaks, she means what she says."

Shaking his finger in an emphatic gesture he declared that nobody who does not "put America first" can be tolerated, adding that true Americans should set a good example to all within national borders.

The present war is not an accident. It had to come, he told the graduates. The United States wants nothing from Europe, he insisted, and he warned the West Pointers against the dangers of militarism.

"The United States should not be a blustering nation with a 'chip on the shoulder,'" he maintained, and went on to say that the American ideal should be that of a calm nation which withholds the hand as long as possible, and then strikes only for victory.

During his address the president touched almost the entire list of subjects which were discussed by Justice Hughes, when the latter sent to the Republican convention last Saturday his telegram accepting the nomination.

The president also declared that the United States is ready to join other nations seeking the justice it believes in giving.

An unconfirmed rumor has been received in Honolulu that two former Hawaii boys, Colin and Donald Campbell of Kauai, were lost at sea in the British-German naval battle off Jutland.

Relatives of the family of Dr. and Mrs. Dugald Campbell, whose sons they were, are very much disinclined to believe the story in the absence of further particulars. One of the boys is understood to have been a lieutenant on the battle-cruiser Queen Mary, which was lost with all on board, and it is probable that the other was also with the big British fleet, but the fact that many days have passed since the battle and that no news of the reported deaths has come to the relatives here, gives reason for hope that the boys were not among the many Britishers lost in this engagement.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell lived on Kauai for years and the boys were born at Waimea. Colin is about 23 and Donald 20 and both are understood to be lieutenants, through one report is that Donald was in the medical branch of the service. Through marriage they are related to a number of Hawaiian families.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell and their sons left here about 15 years ago and have been living in London, where the parents still reside.

VILLA REPORTED AGAIN
BUSY WITH HIS PLOTS

Uneasiness Over Hostile Attitude of Carranza Troops in Chihuahua

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
U. S. HEADQUARTERS IN MEXICO, Colonia Dublan, June 13.—Gen. Pancho Villa's largest remaining armed band of outlaws was completely smashed by a dashing attack of American troops near Santa Clara, not far from here, today, according to news which has just come to Gen. Pershing.

Twenty troopers of the 13th U. S. cavalry under Captain Otto W. Rethorst surprised a band of 25 Villista fighters with numerous hangers-on and dispersed the band into the broken country near their camp. Three were killed and several others wounded, while every horse which the outlaws had and all the ammunition were captured.

The bandits were pursued so hotly that they could not get their horses and fled on foot into the hiding-places of the hills. The troopers divided into small detachments and pursued the fleeing men for hours.

VILLA PLOTTING WITH CARRANZA'S ENVOYS

EL PASO, Texas.—Pancho Villa is not dead, as reported by a Mexican to the correspondents with Gen. Pershing at the front in Mexico. He is much alive and as ambitious to make trouble as ever, according to his El Paso friends.

It is reliably reported that the bandit chieftain is in almost constant communication with a former member of the Carranza cabinet, who is well known in the United States. Believers of this man say an open letter from Villa announcing his future plans may be expected within the week.

If the truth is being told Villa is in retirement on a ranch not 100 miles distant from the place in southern Chihuahua where he ordered the execution of William Benton, the British subject, in 1914. He has made several excursions in Durango and the Torreón district.

MEXICANS MASS ON PERSHING LINE; AWAIT ORDERS

EL PASO, Texas.—Marcus Corral, brother-in-law of Villa, has been granted amnesty by Gen. Jacinto Trevino, commander in chief of Carranza's forces in the north. With about 200 men Corral is operating in the region just south of Parral, where Villa is reported to be under cover.

Information brought out by the Americans proved under Carranza reports that enough defunct government troops had followed up the retiring American army to rid the Parral country of outlaws. On the contrary, said the Americans, the bandit leaders appear to have constitutional permission to go where they choose.

These facts were reported to Gen. George Bell, Jr., today.

Gen. Bell was also informed that 3000 Mexican troops had left Villa Ahumada, 81 miles south of Juarez, on an overland march of about 50 miles to Chocolate pass, on the line of Gen. Pershing's line of communication. The American arrivals from the south said that from all they could learn during their wait at Villa Ahumada, the purpose of this large force was to take up positions near the American army and there wait further instructions.

MORE THAN 20,000 CARRANZISTAS IN CHIHUAHUA

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 13.—Not less than 20,000 and not more than 30,000 Carranzista soldiers are now in the state of Chihuahua, in fairly close touch with Pershing's column, according to information received by headquarters here.

In the state of Sonora, of which headquarters has more definite information, the Carranza troops number 17,000. Most of these are in northern Sonora; a few are in the Yaqui river valley still maintaining a semblance of campaign against the Yaqui Indian outlaws.

The battleships Florida and New Hampshire, and the U. S. transport Kilpatrick left New York to engage in practice maneuvers at sea.

Following her refusal to marry him Harry E. Toker, manager of a hotel at Cincinnati, shot and killed Mrs. Hattie S. Beatty, widow of the Rev. Sheppard Beatty.
